Frequently Asked Questions

I have received orders to Fort Riley. When can I apply for on-post housing?

Service members are eligible, with proper documentation, to apply for on-post housing 90 days before their report date to Fort Riley.

Can my spouse apply for housing on my behalf?

Yes, a non-military or dual military spouse may apply for housing on behalf of the sponsor/senior service member. The non-sponsor submitting the application must have a Special Power of Attorney to obtain housing.

I have not signed into Fort Riley yet from Permissive TDY, can I accept my home?

No, you must be signed into Fort Riley in order to accept a home, however, you can get on the waitlist with the proper documentation.

Can I designate someone to accept a home on my behalf?

Yes, someone can accept a home for you (approve the assignment, sign the lease, accept the keys). The individual acting on your behalf must be named on a Special Power of Attorney which specifically details your designee's authority to manage the assignment and termination of housing for you at Fort Riley, sign the lease document on your behalf, and stop/start your allotment for housing. The Relocation Office can provide you with this form.

Regarding

What is the rank structure for Fort Riley Housing?

For on-post housing purposes, E-1 through E-3 are considered Enlisted, E-4 through E-6 are considered Junior NCO's and E-7 through E-9 are considered Senior NCO's. For Officers, O1 to O3 and W01 through CW3 are Company Grade officers, and O4 & O5 are Field Grade Officers.

What is a DD93 and where can I obtain one?

The DD93 is the Record of Emergency Data form, often attached to the service member's SGLI paperwork. It can also be found in the 201 file or requested through the service members PAC or Personnel. The DD93 or DD1172 is required when submitting an application for on-post housing. The DD1172 is the official DEERS enrollment and can be obtained from the ID card section.

Is there a wait list for the newly constructed homes?

At this time on Fort Riley, the newly constructed homes are going to residents whose homes are in the path of renovation or demolition. If there is still inventory of new homes, families will be assigned according to rank and bedroom requirements.

I am enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP). Will I have priority placement on the waitlist?

EFMP status does not constitute priority placement on Fort Riley's housing wait lists.

The Wait List

How is the on-post housing eligibility date determined?

The eligibility date for an existing Service Member is the date of application and are eligible to get on the waitlist 90 days before his/her report date. A Service Member that has been here for more than 30 days will have date of application as their eligibility date, but incoming Service Member's eligibility date will depend on paperwork. New accession will be either date of marriage or date of entry to the Army.

Deployment or coming from a non-restricted overseas tour does not give you priority placement on the Wait List.

How do I submit an online application?

An online application can be submitted through our Web site at www.rileypicerne.com. Please note, your housing application can be completed online once you have provided the proper documentation and your name will be added to the proper wait list. If you prefer you can complete the online application and provide backup documentation once you arrive at Fort Riley, during that time your application will be pending and you will not be added to a wait list. Please contact our Relocation Staff so our dedicated Relocation team can assist you.

Who determines Key and Essential (K&E) positions for housing?

Fort Riley Garrison Headquarters makes this decision.
